Summary of Decisions:

Item 1.

The President presents various updates related to the association and the World Zionist Organization, as well as the schedule of upcoming congresses. The specific matter of the elections will be addressed under item 4.

Item 2.

After the minutes of the previous General Meeting are read, no comments are made by the board members present, and the minutes are unanimously approved.

Item 3.

Following the presentation of the accounts and the reading of the report by the Treasurer, the General Meeting unanimously approves the annual accounts for the previous fiscal year. Debts and receivables from the years 2018–2019 have been accounted for as adjustments, resulting in a recorded loss of €6,218.

The General Meeting unanimously grants discharge to the board members for any liability resulting from the execution of their mandate during the past fiscal year.

Item 4.

In the unexpected absence of the President of the AEC, the President of the Federation, together with Alain Wahba — both members of the AEC — present the electoral process, the full set of electoral regulations, as well as the requirements outlined in the WZO Constitution concerning candidate lists and election procedures.

Alain Wahba answers the following questions:

- Shas: How does the signature collection process work in order to be eligible to run?

A Google Form will be provided to each movement. They must collect signatures, and will have real-time access to the list of signatures they have gathered in order to monitor progress independently.

- Eretz Hakodesh: Is it one signature per family or one signature per person?

Each individual who meets the voting eligibility criteria may sign. Therefore, it is one signature per person, not per family.

- Eretz Hakodesh: Do the women and young people quotas also apply to electoral lists?

Yes, electoral lists must comply with the quotas defined in the WZO Constitution. The local electoral regulations complement the Constitution but do not replace it. The two sets of rules are complementary.

The President adjourns the meeting at 8:30 p.m.
